

President Vinick Resigns, Issues Statement

This afternoon, I have made the decision to resign from the Office of the Presidency of the United States of America. Serving as your president has been the honor of a lifetime and I thank everyone for the opportunity bestowed upon me to do so.

Unfortunately, I have failed in my duties to serve the American people. Earlier, I, in a moment of weakness, initiated and was offered to take a bribe from a friend of several years, Bruma. I have no excuse for this behavior and accept full responsibility of my actions, hence my letter of resignation to the Secretary of State.

More than anyone else, I am mad and disappointed in myself. The individual who I have been during my time in office is not the individual I strive to be, or was known as before. I aimed to have a fair and honest transition to power, and believe I accomplished that. However, my actions have now delegitimized and dishonored those in my administration who have served fairly and justly, and for that I do so apologize.

In a way, I wanted to be caught for this. Although he has not recorded to my knowledge, I am uncomfortable with my actions and have decided to resign. Being president for me simply was not fun or engaging, I lost many friends, and felt myself sinking lower and lower with each passing day. The burdens of this office are large, much larger than I could have ever imagined but have equipped me with tools I shall use throughout my life.

Although I did not accomplish many of the agenda items I ran on, and with my resignation will not, I am proud of the team I have assembled and the accomplishments we were able to achieve. The Veterans Assistance Program, currently being developed, will help increase employment and reward our veterans for their service. My many nominees are some of the most accomplished and honorable members of this nation, and have conducted themselves professionally and created diverse, hardworking teams that all Americans can be proud of.

I am honored to be a part of a tremendous line of leaders of this great nation, but tremendously saddened by my actions. As I leave, I have no doubt that Vice President LordDeathTheReaper will serve as an honorable and dignified President of the United States, and I wish him the best of luck in wielding the tremendous responsibility this office demands.

It is my hope that Americans will continually to be civically engaged in our tremendous republic, to hold their leaders accountable, demand laws and leaders that represent them, not themselves, and that we can shake the toxicity that has slowly driven us from our peak.

I wish you all well, thank you for the ability to serve, and may God bless the United States.
